METROPOLIS NOTES.

Two Citizens Fall Dead—Dr.
Rush's Daughter
Very Ill.

G. A. K. Men Preparing to Go to the Encampment at Vincinnati—Other News of Interest.

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 2.—Mrs.
Elizabeth Waldrup, nee Munday, aged 55 years, who has been sick for some time, arose from her bed, walked into another room and fell dead, Tuesday evening, while the family was absent for a few moments. She leaves three married children to mourn her loss. She was living with her daughter, Mrs. William Tuton.

On Wednesday evening about sundown Mr. John Stoner, Jr., fell dead of heart disease, at the Wallace farm, four miles north of Brooklyn. Mr.
Stoner was well known in the neighborhood of Maxon's Mill, Ky., where he had worked with several farmers.
He was 38 years of age and unmarried.

Miss Rush, daughter of Dr. Rush, of this city, is very ill and not expected to recover. The family has the sympathy of the entire community. Dr. Rush has lost three daughters in the past two or three years, and now the fourth one is near death's door.

Quite a number of old soldiers and their families intend going to Cincinnati to attend the national G. A. R. encampment. They will start at various times and travel by many routes.
On Saturday a party will go north at 1 p. m., and at the same time others will leave by boat. Sunday and Monday others will go, some via Paducah and Louisville and other via the northern route, with privileges of changing cars at Ada or Ellingham, Ill.

The public schools opened here yesterday with a full attendance.

At Morton's Opera House Tomorrow Night—Get Seats Now.

Lincoln Carter and Hal Reid's new production, "Knobs o' Tennessee," will open the theatrical season of Morton's opera house tomorrow night.
The piece is a big success and has made a hit everywhere it has been presented this season.

Knobs are the foothills of mountains, and the play taking place among the moonshiners who live in those regions, one can readily understand the scope for action and exquisite scenery which Mr. Carter has furnished with a lavish hand.

Get seats at Van Culin's book store.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Of Soldiers on the Transport Catalina—Caught Fire on

But Arrived Safely.

Dr. Nicholas Senn Gives His Opinion—Corporal Tanner Wants an Investigation—Shafter Tells About the Fever.

Scripture-McRae Service.

New York, Sept. 2.—It developed today that a sea horror was narrowly averted on the transport Catalina during its recent trip from Santiago to Montauk with hundreds of sick soldiers on board. Fire broke out in her coal bunkers but was discovered in time by engineers and kept under control until the transport reached Montauk. Three hundred cases of cartridges are on board. The Catalina arrived at this city today to be unloaded; her soldiers were left at Montauk.

DR. SENN'S OPINION.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Dr. Nicholas Senn, in an article in the Medical Journal of today says: "It was not the medical department, but the arrogance or stupidity of the commanding general of the invading army that was responsible for the extensive outbreak of yellow fever in the Cuban campaign."

CORPORAL TANNER TALKS.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Corporal Tanner favors a thorough investigation of the charges against the war department. He thinks the blame rests with incompetent subordinates, and not with the department.

Camp Wikoff, L. I., Sept. 2.— General Shafter told the reporters other Spaniards fled down a side street, and Cervera finally took refuge in a drug store.

JUSTICE WHITE'S OPINION.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 2.— Justice White, of the supreme court, stopped here today en route to Cooperstown. He refused to say whether that he was opposed to annexation.

FULTON'S PIPE DREAM.

She Again Thinks She Will Get the Illinois Central Shops—But There Is Not Even a Hope of It.

Small Wreck Near Grand Rivers
Yesterday—What the T. C.
Pays for Water at Centralia—Other Notes.

Scripture-McRae Service.

Fulton has a bright future before her. There can no longer be any doubt, that the I. C. railroad intends to erect shops here at an early date.
Take a map of this great railroad system, and it can be seen at a glance that Fulton is the hub of the wheel.
She is the great freight transfer point from Memphis to Chicago, from New Orleans to Memphis, etc. This being a fact, the railway officials have set about to build a "Y," two miles in length, connecting the Louisville & Memphis line with the Chicago & New Orleans line. This "Y" starts from the Chicago & New Orleans line about three-quarters of a mile north of Knight's hotel, and takes a southwesterly course, tapping the Louisville & Memphis line one-half mile west of Knight's hotel.

At a point back of the residence of W. W. Morris, three and one-half acres of land have been purchased, on which will be erected a $7,000 freight depot. The yard force to be seen here, will bring not less than thirty or forty families to our town; while four regular freight crews will also lay over here, bringing about twenty-five families with them.

Fulton is to be made the end of the division, and a dispatcher and a number of other officials will be stationed here. By those who seem to know, it is asserted that the railroad people in securing options on 100 acres of land, along with other daily developments, is pretty good evidence that in less than a year we will have railroad shops, and when this is assured, the population of Fulton will double almost in a day.

There was a small wreck on the Illinois Central near Grand Rivers yesterday. The work trains went together and broke up two or three cars. Conductor George Harris was in charge of one of the trains. No one was hurt and the track was not blocked.

The Illinois Central Railroad company pays Centuria, Ill., $180 per month for water. The estimated consumption of water by the railroad company is 6,000,000 per month.

General Agent J. T. Donovan went up the road this morning and returned at noon.

Engineer Joe Randall made a quick run on the cannon ball this morning from Fulton to Paducah.
The schedule run is made in an hour and fifteen minutes, but the train was late, and in addition to stopping at Mayfield and taking on water, the run was made in exactly 58 minutes from the time the train left Fulton until she backed under the Union depot shed and stopped.

Engineer Joe Randall left morning for Louisville, to accompany home his wife, who has been visiting there.

SHE USED FORCE.

And the Husband Wilted Right Quickly.

A lady resident of East Jackson street this morning reported to Officer Jones that a night or two since, she was sitting on her front porch, when a woman ran up and concealed herself behind a telephone post, in the shadow.

In a short time a man and woman came along, and as soon as they got opposite the woman behind the post, she jumped out and seized the man by the collar, administering a beating all the way down the street. He seemed to make no resistance, and if he did, it was of no use. She continued her chastisement for fully a block, and the other woman followed on behind to watch hostilities at a distance.

MR. COBURN'S BIRTHDAY.

He Has Been With the Western Union Forty Years.

Manager J. R. Coburn, of the Western Union Telegraph company, today celebrated his 68th birthday.
Age has left few of its traces on him, and he has not visibly changed for at least 25 years, his friends laugh and tell him. He is as hale and hearty as a much younger man, and can manipulate the key with the same ease he could a quarter of a century ago.

Manager Coburn has been with the Western Union for 40 years, having accepted a position with them in '53. He bids fair to live many years longer.

MR. SUDDETH APPOINTED.

He Falls Into a Police Job This Time.

Mayor Lang has appointed Mr.
William Suddeth, who has been acting as extra policeman, on the night force to succeed Officer A. A. Adkins, who yesterday resigned.
His appointment will likely be ratified at the regular meeting of the council Monday night.

PLAYED "RAPJACKET."

This morning Officer Frank Harlan saw two negroes on Broadway in front of Noah's Ark, using their long whips on each other with all the vim and enthusiasm that they could command. They did not seem to care for the crowd or for each other, and when they saw the officer coming, one of them ran. The one caught was "Horse Corn" Lawrence Baker.
He said they were only playing "rap-jacket." Both appeared to be in a good humor, but they were warranted for disorderly conduct. The other boy was Cree Jett.

BLOODY FIGHT.

Merchants' Policeman Loftin
and Dave Cassell
Mix.

They Had Had Previous Trouble—
Cassell Was Badly
Clusbed.

There was an exciting encounter in Sheriff's saloon at an early hour this morning. Merchant's Policeman Fowler Loftin cladded Dave Cassell, the umbrella mender, with his "billy," on the head, and as a result, badly used the latter up.

The trouble originated from an old grudge. A few weeks ago, Cassell preferred a charge of robbery against the officer, and there proved to be nothing in the charge. Cassell was then arrested on a warrant sworn out by the officer, charging him with gambling, and this warrant was also dismissed in the police court. The result was a bitter feeling was engendered between the men, and it was predicted that there would be further trouble.

Last night, the officer entered the saloon, and Cassell was sitting inside.
According to the best authority possible, he informed Cassell that he, (Loftin), understood that he, (Cassell), was carrying a pistol for him.

Cassell claims he did not reply to this, but that the officer repeated the assertion, and other witnesses say that Cassell then said that he did not want anything to do with him. The officer then asserted that he, Cassell, had caused him to lose a good job on the police force, and that he was going to search him and find out whether he had a gun or not. With that they went for each other, and after a few blows, the officer used his club on the other man's head. A mustard pot was thrown, by Cassell, it is alleged, and slightly cut the officers hand.

Cassell was not seriously hurt, but his head was painfully cut. The officer went to Justice Settle's residence and gave himself up.
The only question seems to be, whether or not the officer had reliable information that Cassell was carrying a pistol. If he did, he not only had a right, but it was his duty, to search him, as he is invested with the same powers as a regular police officer, and under the same bond, and Cassell had no right to resist.

The warrant against Officer Loftin was for a breach of the peace. It was sworn out before Justice Settle this morning by County Attorney Graves.

Mayor Lang stated this morning that he would investigate the matter today, and if he ascertained that the officer was to blame, he would revoke his commission as a special policeman. He does not approve of any officer, regular or special, going into a saloon unless called.

RUN OVER AND KILLED.

Terrible Fate of Mark Matchen, of the City, at Hickory Grove —Remains Found Beside
the Railroad Track.

Had Left the City, and Said He Was Going to St. Louis—His Companion Found Him Dead.

Mark Matchen, a colored youth aged about 20 years, was run over and killed by an Illinois Central train this morning at Hickory Grove, on the Memphis division of the road.
Matchen left the city yesterday, and told his sister, Cynthia Haste, that he was going to St. Louis. He evidently expected to beat his way, or tramp.
He was with Louis McCawley, a boy about his own age.

According to the latter, they sat down beside the railroad track last night and fell asleep. When Mc-Cawley awoke, this morning, he found the mangled remains of his companion beside the track. He could tell nothing about how he had met his fate.

In Matchen's pocket was found a letter in one of "Noah's Ark's" envelopes, addressed to Millie Buaton, of 711 South Seventh street, this city.

Marshal Collins was at once notified, and sent Officer Jarvis to the house indicated to ascertain something of the boys people. He found the woman, who said she knew him, and that his name was Will Matchen, but she knew nothing further about him, except that his sister resided near the Gas Works, on South Third street.

Officer Jarvis went there, and found the woman out. She had heard of the death of her brother, and had gone to investigate it.
Neighbors said the boy's name was Mart, instead of Will, and his sister's name is Cynthia Haste, as stated above.

Nothing is known of the boy at Noah's Ark, and he has never worked there.

Matchen's sister was notified this morning, and took steps to get the body, but it was ordered by the railroad authorities shipped to the capital of the county in which the killing occurred, Mayfield, Graves county.
It is likely that the remains will be brought here for burial, as he had some insurance on his life.

His sister cooks at the Baker home, on North Third street.

The boy came originally from Lyon county, and is well known there. He had been in Paducah for quite a while.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION.

We, the undersigned, respectively the Manager, the Circulator and the Pressman of the Paducah Daily Sun, do state that the average circulation of the Paducah Daily Sun for the twelve months ending July 31, 1898, was (1545) Fifteen Hundred and Forty-five.

AL. E. YOUNG, Manager.
S. A. HILL, Circulator.
ED T. WETHERINGTON, Pressman.

The above was subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of August, 1898.

W. F. PAXTON,
Notary Public.
My commission expires January 22, 1902.

COMPLAINTS are frequently heard of the condition of the gutters from all parts of the city. A filthy gutter is a breeder of disease of the worst kind. While the appearance of the city is of great consequence, the health is of much more importance and the gutters should be thoroughly cleaned of all filth and weeds, and frequently flushed as a sanitary measure.

We are still listening for a call for a meeting of the republican committee of the First congressional district. If the committee is going to meet it should do so, and if not the republicans of the district should know it. For the sake of party organization the committee should meet and do something. It is now only two months before election.

ONE of the most serious questions before the city administration is that of keeping the streets and gutters clean. As to the gutters the city believes that the abutting property owners should be compelled to keep them in good condition. But as long as the city proposes to do the work itself it seems to us that an arrangement could be made with the county by which the county prisoners could be worked on the city streets. As the city pays by far the largest part of the expense of the county, and thus the largest part of the expense of supporting county prisoners, it would be no more than fair that the city should be able to work the county prisoners on the streets. There is vastly more work than can be done by the city prisoners, and, furthermore, the county prisoners are idle all the time.

THE TELEPHONE FRANCHISE.

It is understood that there is some opposition in the city council to the granting of a franchise to another telephone company. Should the council refuse to offer a franchise for sale, and thus take it upon themselves to shut out another company, it will put itself in the attitude of refusing to allow the people the benefit of competitive rates. (The city has granted two street railroad franchises; it has allowed two electric light companies to operate here, and why should it take it upon itself to stifle competition on such an important item as telephone?)

The present telephone company is not here for its health or for the accommodation of the public. It is making money out of the people of Paducah every day. Let another company have the same opportunity and let the people have the benefit of competitive rates. No more short-sighted policy can possibly be adopted by any municipal government than that of shutting out legitimate competition. The people have the same right to competitive rates in telephones as they have in groceries, coal or any other commodity that is a necessity or luxury.

We hope that the rumor about the position of the council is incorrect for it could do nothing that would more surely bring down on its members the just and indignant wrath of the citizens of Paducah than to assume to stand between the people and lower telephone rates.

FREE FERRIAGE.

The idea of free ferrriage over the Ohio river is an excellent one, but we are not able to see what right the boatmen would have to tax the people for the support of a free ferry. The people of Paducah want as much trade from Illinois as possible. On the other hand, the people from over the river are equally as anxious for the trade of the people in this city. We would suggest that the fairest and most feasible plan would be for the merchants of this city to institute a system by which they will agree to pay the ferrriage fee, or a portion of it, for their customers from Illinois. Thus, with every five dollars worth of goods sold, a ticket will be given which shall be good to the Bettie Owen for a certain amount in pay for ferrriage, these tickets to be taken up by the firm issuing them. By this means the merchants that get the trade of the people of Illinois will be helping to pay the ferrriage fee, and that, too, in the nature of a premium. Illinoisans who come over here to sell their farm products without buying goods here will be perfectly willing to pay their own ferrriage. The experience of merchants will tell them what size tickets should be given away with a purchase of any stated amount. Also an agreement should be entered into that each merchant should faithfully abide by the rule adopted. We believe that this at present to be the only solution of the question of free ferrriage, and it is a question for the merchants to decide for themselves.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

The Paducah school board seems to have an elephant on its hands in the shape of the new school building on West Broadway. It looks to an outsider that the whole matter is in the hands of a lot of children. They first said the bid to complete the building was exorbitant; they then said it was not and let the contract, and when it was discovered a certain brick man did not get to sell the brick he was made superintendent. It now turns out that a good portion of the work done is worthless; how much more will be worthless when the job is completed can only be conjectured. It occurs to men not on the inside that the school board is being made a cat's paw by interested parties, and the surprise is that there are not enough sensible men in the board to let the contract to some one who is not connected with the mud-die. The building should be christened the "Mistake," for it was a mistake to build the building at the time it was ordered; it was a mistake to locate it on one side of the city; it was a mistake to put $50,000 in one building; it was a mistake to build the foundation and let it become defective, and it appears a mistake that the building was to be erected by the present board, who are very blind, or don't know when they are being used as tools by interested parties. The architect who drew the plans is one of the best in the state, and has drawn numbers of plans and for some of the best buildings in the city; he is a perfect gentleman and if any fault of his has occasioned the defect he will undoubtedly be ready to make the same good.

A WELL SPOKEN TRUTH.

We hope our young friend who writes letters for the Louisville Post will write a few more. He has told a few Democratic secrets which won't suit the Goebel machine. In his letter of Wednesday he says: "The Goebel election bill is not popular in the First Congressional district. Every county has always had Democratic county officials and square elections. Even in the big vote polled in 1896 every well informed man knows there was nothing like wholesale fraud, and consequently they are doubtful if the stories of fraud from Republican counties are true."

One of the strongest arguments of the advocates of the Goebel election bill was that it would stop the alleged wholesale fraud committed in the Eleventh district. The fact that the Democratic majority in the First district was just as large and that same opportunities and inducements for fraud existed here that did in the Eleventh district, counted for nothing with the political brigands who fashioned the Goebel election bill to pave the way for a wholesale theft of the state.

The correspondent of the Louisville Post states the case well as to the Goebel election law in this district. The people of this district know that if under the old law, the Republicans of the Eleventh district are able to falsify the election, returns, it follows that the Democrats in the First district are able to do the same thing. The assumption that there are no political sharpers in this district is "too thin" even to pass off as a joke. The more the people of this district, as well as the people in other parts of the state, study the Goebel election law, the more do they see that it is nothing in the world but an adjunct to the Goebel machine. The expenses of the machine are being paid for by the state and the people will foot the bills.

A GREAT SENSATION.

France Torn Up by the Latest Developments in the Dreyfus Case—The Suicide of Col. Henry.

Probability That the Famous Case May Be Reopened, and That Dreyfus Will Get at Last a Fair Trial.

Paris, Sept. 2.—It is now insinuated that the suicide of Lieut. Col. Henry, chief of the intelligence department of the French ministry for war, was connived at by the French army authorities. In any case the suicide occurred shortly after the prisoner had received a visit from an officer of the general staff, who on leaving, ordered the sentry on duty before Col. Henry's place of confinement not to disturb the prisoner as he had a lot of work to do. It is recalled that a similar opportunity to commit suicide was afforded to Dreyfus, who, however, declined to profit by it.

It is generally believed the rest of the general staff of the French army will follow the example of Gen. Boisdeffre, chief of staff, and of Gen. Gonse, under chief, and tender their resignations.
It appears the minister for war, M. Cavaignac, is convinced that Col. Henry had accomplices in the forgery of the incriminating documents, and for that reason Col. Paty de Clam has been arrested. In this connection it is reported the minister of justice, M. Sarrien, has already taken steps to grant Dreyfus a retrial.

The arrest of Lieut. Col. Henry was the result of the discovery that he was the author of an important letter which figured in the Dreyfus case; the suicide of Henry Wednesday night and the resignation of Gen. Boisdeffre, chief of the staff of the French army, make up a series of sensational events which, following fast upon each other, have set all France talking and threaten to re-kind the Dreyfus agitation more heatedly than ever.

Lieut. Col. Henry was arrested Tuesday, and it was the intention to try him by court-martial. He cut his throat with a razor he had concealed in his valise.
During the recent Zola trial Henry accused Col. Picquart of falsifying telegrams. A duel followed in which Henry was wounded. The next day occurred the resignation of Gen. Boisdeffre, chief of the staff of the French army, and as a result was arrested, while Henry's villany was rewarded by his being appointed Col. Picquart's successor in the intelligence department.

Col. Henry confessed to having committed forgery, "owing to the absolute necessity for finding proofs against Dreyfus." It is understood that the document in question is the letter which hitherto has been alleged to have been written by the German Military Attache to the Italian Military Attache in October, 1896.

It is also said that when the intervention in the Dreyfus case was coming up in the Chamber of Deputies this letter was secretly communicated to the court martial and was the chief evidence upon which Dreyfus was convicted. The anti-Dreyfus papers are dumb-founded at the arrest of the Colonel, while, on the other hand, the papers which have been supporting the proposition to reopen the case are jubilant. They now demand the immediate release of Col. Picquart, who is imprisoned on charges connected indirectly with the Dreyfus affair, and they also insist upon a review of the Dreyfus trial.

When Count Esterhazy was found of the arrest of Col. Henry and of his admission, he explained: "This is too terrifying."
It is now evident that Henry forged the letter with the express object of paralyzing Col. Picquart's efforts to expose Maj. Esterhazy and to get a revision of the Dreyfus case. The letter was written in bad French, a fact which first led it to be regarded as spurious.
The developments of yesterday led to the conclusion that Dreyfus, who is now a prisoner on Devil's Island for selling information to the German government, will get a new trial and that Count Esterhazy will ultimately be proven to be the guilty one.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—The Record's special cable from Paris correspondent says: "Not since the days of the Boulanger frenzy has there been such excitement here in Paris as there is now over the arrest and suicide of Lieut. Col. Henry. The boulevard swarm with boys selling extras giving the latest developments in the matter. The excitement affords striking evidence of the deep feeling now pervading the whole nation over the Dreyfus imbroglio. Not since Gladstone went over to home rule has a country been so bitterly divided on any subject. It is considered certain on all sides that Dreyfus must be given a new trial. Belief in his innocence is growing general, and the predominant sentiment is one of relief that the end of this terrible nightmare is now near."

WILLY DUFFY.

An Able Office Boy's Way of Gratifying His Curiosity.

"If a smooth-looking 15-year-old boy who says his name is Willy Duffy should happen to apply to any of you gentlemen for a job, don't hire him," said a western contractor who was taking luncheon at the lawyer's club with half a dozen friends.

Every man at the table had experienced office boy trials, and one of them asked:

"What is the objection to Willy Duffy? I have had two boys of that name and they were excellent."
"My Willy Duffy was smart enough," said the contractor, "but he played it low down on me simply to gratify his curiosity. I took my office for only six months because I had only a few contracts in this city to finish up, and on the second day in walked Willy Duffy. He said the janitor had sent him up to apply for the place of office boy. Willy was small for his age and a thin, turned-up nose gave him a wideawake, port look. He told me that he had been employed in several lawyers' offices and I promptly engaged him."

"You haven't moved your library in, sir, I see," he said.

"What library?" I asked.

"Why, your law books, sir."

"No, I haven't, because I'm not a lawyer."

"Willy's face fell at this information and then he said:

"What's your business, sir?"

"That's just it, Willy," I said; "it is my business. I have hired you for an office boy and if I need any more assistance from you I will explain my business fully."

"I said this jokingly, for the boy's immediate interest in my affairs amused me. Willy began work the next day, and as I saw a good many men on business in my office he was kept pretty busy. Several times during the day when he got the opportunity he gave me good openings to confide to him my business. I can appreciate now that the boy must have been very much puzzled. I didn't gratify his curiosity, however, and on the following day, when a South American railroad man came in to see me, Willy showed him to my room and then seated himself near by, apparently to overhear the conversation. I ordered him back to his desk in the other room. Although the door between the two rooms was always open, Willy's desk was so far from mine that he could not overhear conversation in an ordinary tone of voice.

"Two days later a man whom I had never met before came in to see me on business, and he shouted all of his remarks at me until my ears rang with them. I assumed that he was naturally loud voiced. The next caller was a man whom I knew slightly, and he, too, shouted at me. That was a very trying day, I can assure you. Every man who came into my office yelled at me until I began to think that something must have happened to the drums of my ears to make them unusually acute. I worried about it all day, because I noticed that even my acquaintances shouted at me. My head ached, and I was nearly sick, when late in the afternoon an old friend of mine was shown into the office by Willy Duffy.

"Hello, old chap," he shouted, in a voice that might have been heard all over the building; "I just dropped in to ask you to come with me to-night, but I recall now that I have another engagement."

"Well, there is no reason why you should shout it out for all the world to hear," I said, angrily.

"Did I seem to be talking loudly?" he asked.

"Why, you were yelling at the top of your voice."

"Then your hearing must be all right."

"Of course it is," I said.

"But your office boy stopped me as I came in and said: 'Shout loud. The old man's got very deaf. Don't say anything to him about it, though, for he's very touchy,' and I talked loud-enough for you to hear. It was your supposed deafness that caused me to back out of my dinner invitation. I can't understand why the boy should tell me such a thing."

"I thought then that I could explain it all, and I went out to bring Willy in as a witness. He was gone. Just shipped, you know, without saying 'good-by,' when he concluded that his little game was discovered. I have since learned that he instructed every man who called on me that day to shout loud. You don't see his object? Why, it was simple. When he was unable to discover what my business was in any other way, he decided to do it by listening to my visitors, and he wanted them to talk loud enough for him to hear. I have one satisfaction. That is that I am still a puzzle to him. Willy Duffy is too smart for an office boy, and I should advise you not to engage him if he turns up."—N. Y. Sun.

WORK STOPPED.

There Is Trouble at the New Broadway School Building.

Something Is Wrong With the Foundation and Floors.

Superintendent of Construction F. W. Katterjohn has stopped work on the new school building on West Broadway. It was discovered soon after Contractor Hymarsh began work that the foundation was cracked on the southeast side of the building. The foundation, it will be remembered, was built several months ago.

It was also discovered that there were three different kinds of flues provided, while there should have been but one. These, it is alleged, were not in accordance with the original plans drawn up by Architect B. B. Davis, but were placed in by his orders, he being superintendent of the construction of the building when the foundation was built.

Mr. Katterjohn last night made a report to the board, not deeming it advisable for himself to assume the responsibility of letting the work proceed under the circumstances. There was a called meeting of the board, and his report was heard. He did not place the blame for the mistakes, or the condition of things, whether this resulted from mistakes or not, but left the responsibility to be fixed by the board.

After a discussion of the matter, Trustees Drs. Brooks and Taylor, and Mr. Andy Weil were appointed to act in conjunction with the building committee, in making an examination of the foundation, estimating the cost of the work necessary to remedy it, and of fixing the blame for the trouble.

The committee will meet this afternoon late with the superintendent, visit the building and tear up enough of the foundation to ascertain the cause of the crack. It will report at the regular meeting of the board Tuesday night.

Will Childers, colored, who escaped from the chain gang some time ago with seventeen days to serve, was presented this morning on a charge of escaping and sentenced to double the number of days he had to serve when he left, in accordance with the ordinance. He was captured by Officer Potter.

On motion of Attorney Gilbert, lawyer for Andrew Bayes, the colored youth yesterday fined $50 and costs and sentenced to fifty days in jail for carrying a pistol, a new trial was granted. The attorney said that by newly-discovered evidence, he would be able to show that Bayes did not have the pistol concealed, and that the police officers did not see him take it from his pocket. He is the man shot at by the I. C. watchman.
